

HAVE A BLESSED GOOD FRIDAY

At 12 noon today we will celebrate the Stations of the Cross and at 3.00pm have the 'Service of the Lord's Passion'.

This day marks the occasion when Christ gave His life for us.

He knew what it was to be isolated from those around Him. They were physically close by, but He was cut off from them, indeed many of His friends had abandoned Him.

Let us offer to the Lord our being isolated from loved ones today.

As we recall the Passion of Jesus we share our sufferings with Him just as He shares His sufferings with us, knowing that this is not a day of sorrow but, that it will end in the revelation of the glory of God which is His love for us.

That love will never let us down so we ought remember we are never isolated from God and in Him, we are never truly isolated from one another.
